As Act making appropriations for the support of the army for the year ending thritieth of June, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby, appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the support of the army for the year ending the thritieth of June, eighteen fundred and sixty-soven: be held at the city of Philadelphia, on the second Tuesday (14th) of August next. For subsistence in kind for regulars and volunteers, five million three hundred and one thousand six hundred and twenty-five dollars.

passed by Congress in pursuance thereof, supreme and constant, and universal in their obligation;

The rights, the dignit, and the equality of the States in the Union, in-hadding the right of representation in Congress, are solemnly guaranteed by that Constitution, to save which from overthrow so much blood and treasure were expended in the late civil war. There is no right, anywhere, to dissolve the Union, or to separate States from the Union, either by voluntary withdrawal, by force of arms, or by congressional action; neither by the secession of the States are by the exclusion of their loyal and qualified representatives, nor by the national Government in any other form;

Stavery is abolished, and neither can, nor ought to be, re-established in any State or Territory within our jurisdiction;

Each State has the undoubted right to prescribe the qualifications of its own electors, and no external power rightfully can, or ought to, dictate, control, or influence the free and voluntary action of the States in the exercise of that right:

The maintenance inviolate of the right of the States, and especially of the right of each State that right:

The maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially of the right of each State, and especially of the right of each State, and especially of the right of each State to order and control its own demestic concerns, according to its own judgment exclusively, subject only to the Constitution of the United States, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and the overthrow of that system by the usurpation and centralization of power in Congress would be a revolution, dangerous to republican government and destructive of liberty;

Each House of Congress is made, by the Constitution, the sole judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members; but the exclusion of loyal clenators and Repsentatives, properly chosen and qualified, under the Constitution and laws, is unjust and revolutionary;

For paymeths to discharged soldiers for looking not drawn, one hundred and fly thousand dollars.

For the regular supplies of the quartermater's department, consisting of fuel for the officers, enlisted men, guard, hospitals, storehouses, and officers of forage in kind for the horses, mules, and oxen for the quartermater's department, containing of fuel for the officers, enlisted men, guard, hospitals, storehouses, and officers of forage in kind for the horses, mules, and oxen for the quartermater's department, and companies of infantry as may be mounted, and for the authorized number of officers horses when serving in the field and at the outpoets, including bedding for the animals; of straw for soldiers, bending for the animals; of straw for soldiers, bending the additional compensation of the quartermater's department, constaint of your termster's department of the straw of which are the constaint of your termster's department or ders and reports, four million sone hundred there are the constaint of your termster's department to make the province of the quartermater's department, constaint of your termster's department to making the province of the quartermater's department to make the province of the post at home, and upon our standing abroad, differing only in degree, is injurious like wer't self;

The purpose of the war having been to preserve the Union and the Constitution by putting down the rebellion, and the rebellion having been suppressed, all resistance to the authority of the General Government being at an end, and the war having ceased, war measures should also cease, and should be followed by measures of peaceful administration, so that union, harmony and concord may be encouraged, and industry, commerce, and the arts of peace revived and promoted; and the early restoration of all the States to the exercise of their constitutional powers in the National Government is indispensably necessary to the strength and the defence of the Republic, and to the maintenance of the public credit.

All such electors in the thirty-six States and nine Territories of the Union can rise above personal and sectional considerations, and who desire to see a truly National Union Convention, which shall represent all the States and Territories of the Union, assemble, as friends and brothers, under the national flag, to hold counsel together upon the state of the Union, and to take measures to avert possible danger from the same, are speedily requested to take, part in the choice of such delegates.

But no delegate will take a seat in such ropes, and for shoeing the horses of the ropes, and for anoeing the Borses of the corps named; also, generally, the proper and authorized expenses for the movements and operations of an army not expressly as-signed to any other department, one million dollars.
